

Mekong Skills2Work Online Course Honor Code

You are now enrolled in the USAID-funded Mekong Skills 2 Work Network online course. You will be participating with a community of online learners from institutions across the Lower Mekong region.

Participation in this course is both a privilege and a responsibility. You have been given an opportunity to learn or deepen skills that will help you become not just a certified Mekong Skills 2 Work Network professional development provider but a better instructor.

With that comes certain responsibilities. By enrolling in this course, you agree to adhere to a code of complete academic integrity and your first action will be to read and sign this Honor Code.

If you do not believe that you can adhere to all of the requirements listed here, you are free to un-enroll from the online course. There is no penalty for doing so. However, you will not be able to lead Mekong Skills 2 Work Network

If you wish to continue in the online course, please read the following requirements and sign and date this document and post to assignments.

I agree to do the following:

1. Complete all assignments: I will complete all readings, assignments and quizzes individually (and where required with my team). This does not mean that I can't work with my institutional team to complete assignments. It does mean that I will not take and submit the work of others. Nor will I give my work or submit work on behalf of a teammate who has not made any effort to do his/her work.
2. Maintain control of my Edmodo account: I will keep my user name and password to myself. I will not share either with anyone else. I will maintain only one user account. I recognize that violation of this will result in suspension of my Edmodo account.
3. Adhere to all standards of academic integrity: I will not engage in any academic activity that is dishonest. I will not plagiarize information, download copyrighted content, use information of others without citing my source or pressure my teammates to give me their work or complete work for me. I recognize that doing any of these things will result in my needing to leave the course.
4. Active participation: I will be an active teammate with members of my institutional team. I will participate fully and actively. I will not hang back and let others do my work and then take credit for it.
5. Sharing information: I will report any academic dishonesty to USAID COMET.
